

RELIEF SOCIETY
IN CONFERENCEPresident Bathsheba Smith Presides Over the Exercises in Assembly Hall.

SHE MAKES A BRIEF ADDRESS.

Veteran President of Women's Organization Greets the Delegates—This Afternoon's Program in Detail.

The general conference of the Relief society convened in the Assembly hall this morning at 10 o'clock, with a large attendance. Pres. Bathsheba W. Smith presided over the exercises, and Mrs. E. B. Wells read the roll call.

Not all the stakes were represented, but those responding gave reports of the progress of the work in their localities, which for the most part were of a favorable character.

The meeting commenced with the hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," the hymn of the Lord, and prayer by Mrs. R. E. Little, followed by the hymn, "Where Friendship's Voice is Heard," President Bathsheba W. Smith making a brief speech of greeting, expressing her pleasure in seeing so many present and saying that only the temple work was dearer to her than this of Relief work which she felt was an important work of God.

Mrs. Jane S. Richards, president of the Weber stake, responded, and gave some encouraging remarks. She was reminded in looking out at the large audience of the first meeting she attended in Nauvoo, where in company with the president, Mrs. Smith, she joined the Relief society only just organized. She said that only a handful of members were there and a memorable incident was the presence of the Prophet Joseph Smith, whose last public address on earth was made to the sisters then assembled. She said that an impression was left of that time that they would never hear him again.

Counselor Annie T. Hyde gave a most interesting talk on the new building which it is proposed to build for the Relief societies. She said that over $15,000 has already been collected for the building and the time will not be long before it is completed.

STAKE REPORTS.

Then followed the stake reports, which were most interesting and followed with close attention. Most of them being represented by the stake presidents.

Mrs. Ida Smoot Dusenberry made an address illustrating in a most striking way how great a work the society may achieve. She said in looking out at the splendid audience she thought what an effort it meant to come to this conference, how many had come, and what responsibility rested upon those who were to take part in making these meetings worth while. She told of her own feelings of humility in the face of deep responsibility.

She gave a story of a butterfly with an apt illustration to life. She had once tried to help a butterfly out of its cocoon and finally after cutting some threads which she thought would free it, she waited in vain for it to fly, it was dead, and she realized that perhaps if she had let it make its own struggle its self-assertion might have preserved its life. It is so with parents; they often want to remove obstacles and trials from their children's paths, but perhaps the things would strengthen them. Labor, struggle, sacrifice, these things all help develop character. She thanked her heavenly father that she was fitted to do work that perhaps would help others. In the kindergarten, children are taught that labor is a privilege; the punishment for wrong doing in the school is to keep them from the exercises. She recited instances of the importance of parental care and surveillance, and of the noble position of mothers—what their influence means.

She spoke of the danger of anger shown by mothers; reciting an instance in which a child had been poisoned and thrown into fatal convulsions by nursing at a mother's breast, while she was in a fit of anger.

Mothers should remember, she said, that the ill effects of anger are more serious and far reaching than they dream. She spoke of the great good that might be accomplished by union in a great cause, illustrating her remarks by a story of a search made for a lost child, when the neighbors and friends joined and marched step by step, the united efforts resulting in finding the child.

GOOD MUSIC.

A beautiful feature of the meeting was the special music which was in charge of Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edward, the accompanist being Miss Coray of the Nineteenth ward. The program included the following, solo, "The Prophet Joseph," by John Robinson; "Holy Mother," by Mrs. Carrie Carr and Miss Esther Cornell; violin solo by Prof. Skelton.

This afternoon the following program is scheduled to be given:

Hymn, "Zion Stands with Hills Surrounding." Prayer.

Hymn, "O Ye Mountains High," solo. Remarks—President B. W. Smith. Sketch, "Emma Smith," by Mrs. L. E. Little. Sketch, "Zina D. H. Young," by Mrs. E. B. Wells. Sketch, "Bathsheba W. Smith," by Mrs. J. P. M. Farnsworth. Sketch, "Eliza R. Snow," by Mrs. Annie W. Cannon. Solo, "O My Father," by Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edward. Sketch, "Zina D. H. Young," by Mrs. E. B. Wells. Sketch, "Bathsheba W. Smith," by Mrs. J. P. M. Farnsworth. Remarks—Secretary Emeline B. Wells. Hymn, "Guide Us Oh Thou Great Jehovah." Benediction.

HACKETT PLEADS GUILTY.

Bound Over to the District Court; Bonds Placed at $1,000.

Arthur Hackett was before Judge C. B. Diehl this afternoon, in the criminal division of the city court, on a charge of grand larceny. He was accused of having stolen a 140 lb. caskin from the residence of Mrs. Margaret Clawson. When arraigned today, Hackett pleaded guilty to the charge, and was bound over to the district court, his bonds being placed at $1,000.

DEATH OF MRS. FENTON.

Resident of Sixth Ward for Forty Years Passes Away.

Mrs. Annie M. Fenton, aged 67 years, died on April 3, at the residence of her son, Joseph Fenton, 704 south Seventh West street, of general debility. Mrs. Fenton was a wife of the late Thomas Fenton, and had been a resident of the Sixth ward for 40 years. Announcement of funeral arrangements will be made later.

'ELKS' BOOSTER.

Word Publication of Twelve Pages Issued From the Press Today.

The Elks' booster, "Best Paper on Earth," is out today, a large sized paper of 12 pages, gotten up to interest the public in the coming Elks' entertainment, and to make people laugh. First page legends state, "Largest circulation of any paper in the U. S. or Oregon." "If you see it in the 'Booster,' you know it is foolish." There is a cut of John S. Critchlow in "a dark study," with his great-grandfather's cravat bunched around his spirited neck, his hair like a rat's nest, while the descriptive legend beneath states, "He once got a job with the Press Club, but until now has never been. A lady was doing some Lenten marketing—buying eggs, fish, fruit."

William Dean Howells, at a Lenten dinner in New York, said: "I heard of a striking simile the other day. A lady was doing some Lenten marketing—buying eggs, fish, fruit."

"Pausing before a fruit stand, she examined a heap of pears."

"Are these juicy?" she asked.

"Juicy," said the dealer warmly. "Why, ma'am, they're as juicy as my old pipe."

WORTH SAVING.

Here is a simple prescription, as given by an eminent authority on Kidney Disease and Rheumatism:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Srup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known local druggist is authority that these ingredients are harmless and easily mixed at home by shaking well in a bottle. He also states that he has been advised by many of his patrons that this prescription has a peculiar healing and soothing effect upon the entire Kidney and Urinary structure, often overcoming the worst forms of Backache and Bladder weakness in just a little while. This mixture is said to remove all blood disorders and relieve Rheumatism.

a diaphragm stretcher, a lung exercise. The editorial staff includes the following literary lights of the highest magnitude: Business manager, Captain Fisher Harris; editor, Lester D. Wood; circulating manager, Fred L. Wood; city editor, Frank L. Hines; telegraph editor, A. H. May; traveling agent (walking delegate), Rufus K. Love; reporters, messengers, general utility, led printers, devil, et cetera. Unlike all other papers, the Booster is entered as first class matter. Motto: Do others as they would do you, and do them first. Subscription rates, anything that isn't nailed down.

A change has been made in the dates of performance for the Elks' show, from the 11th and 12th insts., to the 19th and 11th insts.

COURT NOTES.

The will of William Huskinson, who died in this city on Jan. 29, 1907, has been filed for probate in the district court, together with the petition of George Huskinson and John R. Smith, asking that they be appointed executors as provided in the will. The estate consists of real property valued at $4,500 and personal property of the value of $100. There are seven heirs to the estate.

A condemnation suit has been filed in the district court by the Rio Grande Western Railway company against Amanda E. Clark to condemn a right of way over the Copper Mining company's claim No. 237 at Bingham for the purpose of building a spur track from Reserve to the Utah Copper company's mine.

Suit has been filed in the district court by the Utah Electric Supply company against John H. Heron and James Roman to foreclose a mechanic's lien on premises described as part of lot 5 block 56, plat A, Salt Lake City survey. The total amount alleged to be due plaintiff for material furnished in the construction of a house on the property is $306.51, for which judgment is asked.

An action has been filed in the district court by the Centennial Life Insurance & Investment company against H. W. Barre to recover $120 alleged to be due on two promissory notes assigned to plaintiff by P. M. Lockert. The notes were executed in November, 1906. Judge Morse today rendered a decree in favor of plaintiff in the case of Perry S. Heath against Samuel T. Parkinson quieting plaintiff's title to part of lot 3 block 77, plat A Salt Lake City survey, and also to an alleyway on part of said lot.

It Was Juicy.

William Dean Howells, at a Lenten dinner in New York, said: "I heard of a striking simile the other day. A lady was doing some Lenten marketing—buying eggs, fish, fruit."

"Pausing before a fruit stand, she examined a heap of pears."

"Are these juicy?" she asked.

"Juicy," said the dealer warmly. "Why, ma'am, they're as juicy as my old pipe."

JURY INDICTS
WYOMING LAWYER

True Bills Found Against E. E. Lonabaugh, Attorney, and P. H. McPhelamey.

PLACED UNDER $5,000 BONDS.

Indictment of One of the Leading Politicians of the State Comes as Painful Surprise.

(Special to the "News.")

Cheyenne, Wyo., April 4.—The United States grand jury has returned true bills against E. E. Lonabaugh, a prominent attorney of Sheridan, Wyo., who is charged with conspiracy and defrauding the government in connection with coal land filings by Sheridan companies. An indictment was also returned against P. H. McPhelamey, also a leading resident of Sheridan, who is charged with the same offense. Lonabaugh and McPhelamey arrived in Cheyenne last night. They were promptly arrested and placed under $5,000 bonds each, and will be tried at the May term of court.

Lonabaugh was candidate for judge of his district last fall. He has long been regarded as one of the ablest lawyers and one of the leading politicians of the state. His indictment comes as a complete surprise to his many friends.

The grand jury will conclude its labors late this afternoon when a long list of indictments will be returned. It is stated that true bills have been found against a number of prominent sheep and cattlemen and especially the latter, who are charged with unlawfully fencing the government domain, and with making fraudulent entries under the homestead laws.

The United States attorneys from Denver and Washington promise that when the list is made public it will create a sensation.

PERSONALS.

First Lieut. E. E. Haskell of the Twenty-ninth Infantry has been given four months' leave of absence, and will rejoin his regiment at the Presidio preparatory for sailing for the islands. The lieutenant was in the president's regiment during the Spanish war.

Secy. Taylor of the state board of horticulture has returned from Nephi where he reports a strongly growing interest in horticulture. Over 100 acres will be set out for orchards this spring.

SILVER QUOTATION.

Today's silver quotation, as reported this afternoon by the American Smelting & Refining company, is 64 1/2.

Misinterpreted.

The story is told of a young Oregon girl, a favorite in society, but who was poor and had to take care not to get her evening gowns soiled, as her number was limited. At a dance not long ago a great, big, red-faced, perspiring man, came in and asked her to dance. He wore no gloves. She looked at the well-meaning but noisy hands despairingly, and thought of the immaculate back of her maid. She hesitated a bit, and then she said, with a warning smile: "Of course I will dance with you, but if you don't mind, won't you please use your handkerchief?"

The man looked at her blankly a moment or two. Then a light broke over his face.

"Why, certainly," he said.

And he pulled out his handkerchief and blew his nose.—Home Magazine.

CROWDS THROUGH CITY'S STREETS

Conference Visitors Coming in From All Parts of the West.

SPECIAL FROM RICHFIELD.

Seven Hundred People Expected in Only One Train From the South This Afternoon.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the first session of the sixty-eighth semi-annual conference will be held, and the traffic towards Salt Lake today indicates that all previous records will be broken. From Richfield a special train is expected this afternoon, bringing in 700 people, and from other sources it is expected by the railroad companies that the travel will reach a total of 3,000 people.

For the next few days merchants are preparing to do a record business, as the promise is that with fair weather the throngs will give their spare time to shopping. The city hotels will be crowded to their limit while hundreds of private homes are being prepared for the entertainment of visitors who are either relatives or close friends. The conference lasts until Sunday next, so that the outward tide of travel will not be expected to set in until early next week.

The only conference sessions tomorrow will be the regular morning and afternoon meetings, the evening being taken up with a special tabernacle concert.

LATE LOCALS.

Sure Sign of Spring—A sure sign that spring is here was manifest today in the first appearance of a straw hat and open cars on the street railway.

Bank Clearings—Today's local bank clearings amounted to $976,723.14 as against $813,450.43 for the same day last year.

Rain Is Due—Today is a regular spring day, with the weather for tomorrow uncertain, as there is a low area pressing in from the northwest, and a high area pressing in from the southwest. The local weather office believes that the low barometric pressure will predominate, so that rain will fall in the next 24 hours. Very little rain fell over the country yesterday.

New Restaurant Company—Articles of incorporation of the Lovore Restaurant company of this city were filed with the county clerk today. The stock is $5,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. E. E. Willie is president; C. W. Borchert, vice president; E. L. Willie, secretary and treasurer. The company will open up a restaurant in the basement of Walker Bros' bank where the Rich restaurant was located some time ago.

Intercollegiate Debate—The University of Utah will defend the affirmative side of the question as to repealing the amendment to the national Constitution granting the negro the power to vote, in the coming intercollegiate debate with the University of Oregon. A letter to this effect was received from Oregon today, in which it was stated that Oregon preferred the other side of the question. The Utah debaters are C. Jensen and Richard W. Young, Jr., and the debate will be held in Barratt Hall, April 26.

Lacked Initiative.

Stuyvesant Fish, seated in his Broadway office, was describing to a well-known financial editor the character of a western financier.

"The man's success amazes me," said Mr. Fish. "For he is altogether lacking in courage and initiative. In short, he is like that husband who, after answering the letter carrier's ring, returned and said timidly to his wife: 'A letter for me, dear. May I open it?'"
